Introduction

Dear Fellow New Yorker,

I would like to take the opportunity to provide you with important information about funding opportunities for faith based and community organizations. Our government, on both the state and federal level, provides funding for competitive grants. This funding bolsters critical social services in our communities, so it is important that faith based and community organizers like you are able to access the necessary resources in an easy and timely manner.

As I travel across New York and meet with community leaders such as you, one thing is clear - information about funds dispersed by the government for faith based and community organizations is often difficult to access and decipher. As your Senator, I am working hard to provide you with as much information as possible to put your organization in a position to compete for these funds. My office is committed to assisting you in accessing funds for your community's priorities.

President Obama recently established an advisory council designed to connect faith based and community non-profit organizations to people and resources in government. I look forward to working with the council as we build stronger communities and reach out more effectively to citizens in need. This guide is a first step to affording faith based and community organizations opportunities to participate in existing state and federally funded programs.

This guide will provide you with important deadlines, contact information, and a brief overview of each grant program. More detailed information for these programs can be found by visiting the internet links provided. In addition, I have provided contact phone numbers and emails.

As your Senator, securing funding for New York is one of my priorities in Washington. I hope that you find this guide to be informative and helpful. As you move forward in the application process for these grant opportunities, please contact Jon Cardinal, my Grants Director, for letters of support, where applicable. You can reach him in my Washington, D.C. Office at Grants@Gillibrand.Senate.gov, or (202)-224-4451.

Sincerely,

Kirsten E. Gillibrand
United States Senator
